Figuring out life one educated guess at a time

Pussy chronicles, day 2 (SRS +1)

I was more awake today. Although I slept a ton. Dr Suporn stopped in around 8 to check up on stuff and ask some questions. He said today would be painful due to the swelling, sure enough yesterday was more painful than SRS day was (well at least one I got morphine for self administration anyways). He also wanted me to eat some food. I didn't eat much due to nausea, but I ate some. I had various sharp pains through the day but nothing totally unbearable.

Really this was another day off sleep more. I messed around inn phone for a bit, including posting on here and a reddit AMA... But otherwise just tried to be comfortable and sleep.

My pussy is so sore. But it's mine. And it's not male bits. So yay!

Oh and meet the girl who was on Thursday. Talked to her for a bit. Looking forward to talking to get more. Hopefully the girl on Wednesday is up for stuff too. Would be a fun group to heal with I think.

I talked to my girlfriend the other day and she was stoked and amused that I was referring to my new vagina as “our new vagina”.
