The Living Experiment

Figuring out life one educated guess at a time

Okay, back to stable emotional land... kind of (SRS +18)

So after the emotional shit show that was yesterday, I'm a little better today it would seem. My gf landed right about the time I woke up. It's magic... we're somehow like the same person... and my body just knew "oh that part of me just landed at home! Wakeup!" You know, in case I was sleeping on the flight which literally never happens. Ever. Except trans-pacific flights with sleep pills and your gf to lay on with an entire row to yourselves.

Whatev's. Dilation wasn't super fun yesterday, as I went in without pain meds. Today seems like it'll be similar as one of the issues of pain meds is getting stopped up. Which then I have to take other meds to deal with. And that's annoying since I can tolerate the pain of dynamic, it's just not enjoyable. Well except that one time (I need to post that day up).

Other than that, just killed time most of the day. We had a large group that went to dinner at the Red Chair place, unfortunately we got moved inside even though it was beautiful out. Just was likely going to rain. Inside is so annoying there, it's hot and I don't like the smell personally. The food is super cheap though (IIRC 320 bhat for 3 plates+2 bowls of rice+a big beer+2 waters when my gf and I went the night before) and pretty good. It you can, do that for dinner it's enjoyable with people.

I was pretty distant during dinner though, sorry to anybody from dinner who happens to read this it wasn't anything with you, checking my phone and just feeling sick to my stomach and crap around not having my gf here anymore. Ugh emotions and homones that I so don't want to deal with right now. Anyways, on to check some stuff, send some emails, and dilate! Have an appointment at the clinic today.
